Disk-Disk collision

The goal is to complete the following function in the code provided on the course website. This function handles disk-disk collisions. We assume that at each time step, no more than one collision occurs.

```python
def check_for_collision(self):
    # TO DO: this needs to be completed

    pass
```

Due back before the end of the class.